

We're looking for a

Visual Wizard

AKA – Instructional Designer

Do you have great design skills? Can you put together great impactful visuals and make documents rock? Are you able to turn basic information into something people love to look at? If so, this may be the job for you!

Who are we?

We are Ethree Online, the online and virtual training arm of Ethree Consulting, based in St. John's, NL. We help organizations build the skills their teams and people need to be successful without ever having to set foot in a classroom. We partner with organizations to understand what they need to achieve, and build the onboarding, training and learning activities they need to reach their goals. You can find out more about us, our mission and values and how we work with our clients, at ethree.ca (our ethree online specific site is coming soon!) With the onset of COVID-19 we have seen an increase in demand for our products and services and we are looking for an Instructional Designer to join our team.

What's the job?

We produce online and virtual learning content for a range of clients. We need a tech savvy individual with design skills to join our team and help develop training content for our online system. Instructional Designers take learning material and, using our design software, develop an interactive online course from the content provided. The successful candidate will have great visual skills, good written communication and be able to pick up things quickly.

What are we looking for?

This job requires great visual design skills and an ability to work to deadline. The right candidate is proactive and imaginative with lots of creativity. They are able to design to fit lots of different aesthetics and brand guidelines. Proficiency in Articulate Storyline and Articulate Rise Suite of development tools is essential for this position. Excellent IT and communication skills are also a must.

What else do you need to know?

The position hours are variable as we want the right person, part time or full time! Positions are remote (working from home) and we provide competitive salary and benefits.

If this sounds like you, we want to talk to you! Send us your resume and a cover letter on why you are the perfect fit for this role to contact@ethree.
